“ I first met Al working for NJTransit in Red Bank back in the mid 80's and instantly hit it off. Al was definitely one of the good ones! We shared many laughs and even more good fishing stories and trips. One of our best memories was the beautiful summer day we were at the coffee truck before work began and decided to ditch work to go fluke fishing on his boat. We told the assistant supervisor (Harry) you didn't see us and called out sick. Me, Al and Steve had a blast, caught a bunch of fish, and were boarded by the Coast Guard. We talked about that day right up until his last days. Rest in peace my friend and save a spot by the rail for me for when we see each other again.

“ Worked alongside Al for many years at NJ Transit and shared many a beer and many laughs over those years especially playing softball on that NJT team of the late 80's that in 2 or 3 years I don't think won a game but boy we had a good time most guys before the games even started which explains the zero wins..rest peacefully my friend and see you again someday in that ever growing B&B crew in the sky
