“ I remember Gordon as the greatest Banker/Manager representative I EVER knew! He taught me all the skills, and knowledge he learned throughout his professional career, and education. From what I know, he still has a place in the business world. His foundations have proved to be the toughest in the industry thus far. God bless you Gordon Terella.

“ Today is the actual date that you have been gone since for 1 year. And no matter what I've done this past year it doesn't seem real that your gone. I dont ever think it will be real. I always catch myself taking pictures and having something great happen in my life and try to send it or call you and realize your not there. I need you everyday for guidance and advice and to be my protector still. I wish I can see you or here your voice for 1 minute. I want a explanation. Your not supposed to be gone this soon. Your my best friend, my brother, my dad and above all my uncle the greatest 1 a young woman could ask for. Your supposed to be there teaching my kids all sorts of things all the wisdom and knowledge that you had was supposed to be shared. I will love you until my heart stops beating and then I hope you will waiting there in heaven for me when its my time. I hope you hear my voice when I talk to you. Just always know that no mattet what you where loved and appreciate more then any one in this world. I had the most respect and gratification for you. I will never ever let no one forget you I will always keep your memory alive. I just hope you have peace.

“ Well uncle tonight is the 1st game of Knicks season. I know you are there watching. I hate that you are not here watching with me. Or even at the game sending me pictures and video of every play by play for me and David. We miss you so much. I cant get over that your gone. Love you always. Now you can be the Knicks 6th man.

“ I am so shocked and saddened to find out about Gordon's passing. He was one of my best friends in Matawan. For some reason, his name came into my head today. I just did a google search to see if I could find out what happened to an old friend- Gordon, I am so sorry that I missed connecting back up with you to see what you were doing before you left. Because of you I always told my daughter to find a great guy friend who you can talk to and who will shed light on the mysteries of boys or boyfriends in your life. Gordon, you kept me sane through so many of my HS romances. I'm so glad I had you in my life. RIP dear friend.

A guy with a golden heart...Although U were Stephanie's friend, I too, as her mom, felt a very strong bond...Even going to school with U, to face Ur challenges if needed...Being Ur friend all those years ago helped to make, my daughter the woman she is today as far as understanding first boys, then men or bigger boys as we lady people will say...U were always welcomed into our lives and home...I am so sad the passing years were lost for us all, we have spoken of Ur friendship so many times and Stephanie searched but unable to find U until this very moment...We wish it were different but, life can deal some pretty harsh lessons.....U will always B in so many memories and after the tears, we will smile and giggle at the memories we do have left...Rest peacefully "Boy with the golden heart"...

“ Even though a month has passed not a day goes by where I don't think of you. You had such a big heart and cared so much beyond words. You taught me how to be “grey” and for that I will always be grateful for because it's helped me so much in my career. Sometimes I can still hear you calling me Mar and it makes me sad to know I'll never hear it again. We had so many amazing memories in and out of work and I will carry them with me forever. RIP Gordo I'll forever carry you in my heart and memories

“ I wish we had time to have made one more funny memory together bro-star. I say bro star, for you were my brother from your birth and you will my star in death. I will gaze up to the night sky and pick out the one you please to be that night. When I die I hope we are able to be both part of the eternal oneness...
Blessed be my baby bro,
your big Sis...xo

“ I'll still take Tom Brady over Joe Montana! While we didn't work together for long I'll always remember the fun times we had in the branch. From your ever changing caller ID to the back and forth with Anwar. We all miss you and will always think about you. RIP

“ I miss you bro, just wish our last conversation was more meaningful but you always loved talking sports especially how the Knicks will reign supreme in the east again, true Gordon fashion.. Thank you, for being a good friend and a great person. You helped move my career forward bro. When I was at my low point you gave me a second chance at your branch after I left the first time two weeks in. You didn't have to, but that spoke to your character. I'm glad I got to build a friendship with you outside of work. Thank you.

“ Wow Gordon I don't know what to say I'm still in a state of shock. There's so many memories I can post, but more than anything I'll always remember when I went to my first Eagles game with you and the team. We had so much fun. I will miss calling you and talking sports, or listening to your corny jokes. I'm sorry I never made it to Asbury Park. Rest well my friend until we meet again . I'll never forget you.

“ I am so sad to hear of Gordon's passing. Words cannot describe the impact you had on many people. Thank you for keeping me calm when Scotty got hit by a car and driving me to the ER. Thank you for your kind words of encouragement on being a single parent and for all the fun and laughter.
My condolences to your family. May you rest in peace.

“ I have so many awesome memories of you I don't even know where to start. You were such an amazing person and friend. You were always there to push me further in my career and I know so many others who would not be where they are today without your support and encouragement. You could be so stubborn and tough about things but deep down you were a softy. I'll never forget the day my son hit his head and he had that huge bump. He seemed fine but I was terrified he had a concussion. You didn't even hesitate. Before I could get the words out you told me I needed to stay home.

It breaks my heart to know you're gone but then I get these flashes of all the good times we all had together. You and Sam in your Christmas suits, how you called me a poodle whenever I wore my hair curly or your reactions to some crazy thing you heard or saw. I remember visiting the branch on maternity leave and the look of absolute terror on your face because you were scared I would go into labor at any second, especially when I was a week overdue. Even now the memory still makes me laugh. I'll miss your calls and although I'd never thought I'd say it I'll miss our group texts with way too many memes and gifs from you and Anwar. RIP

“ My uncle Gordon was the most amazing man in this world. He was more than just uncle he was like a dad and my best friend. The best positive male role model a girl could ask for. I was so proud of him for all the accomplishments . Gordon you were a blessing from god to your mother and the rest of our family and your friends. So kind, loving, caring, thoughtful, considerate, and a perfect gentleman. I can't believe your gone now it feels like its a dream. I know that your in a better place and at peace. You were loved by so many and i hope you see that now. You will be deeply missed forever. Your dogs had such a great care taker. They will be taken care of well I promise you. I no you will be with us everywhere we go in life and always watching down on us. Until I see you again my heart will feel empty. You will always be my angel. Rest in piece my sweet uncle. I will love you for life there won't be a day that will go by that i don't think of you. Thank you to everyone that has shared memories of my uncle it so wonderful to see how he has touched all of your lives.
