

Henry L. Jaszewski

September 10, 1925 - September 16, 2020

Henry L. Jaszewski passed away peacefully at his home on September 16th, surrounded by family and loved ones, just days after his 95th birthday. Henry was born in Jersey City on September 10th, 1925 to Emily (Sajkowski) and Matthew Jaszewski. He was the youngest of five children, served in the US Army during World War II, and was the only member of his family to attend college. Henry paid his own way through New York University, earning his degree in Accounting. To cover his tuition, he accepted a part-time bookkeeping role at Halsted Corporation in Jersey City, a textile bag manufacturing company where Henry would ultimately work his way to the top, assuming sole ownership of the business some 30 years later.

Henry was fortunate that his professional path led him to Western Electric for a brief period, where he met the love of his life, Lucille Vivo, and they married on June 18, 1949. Henry and Lucille celebrated fifty years of marriage and two wonderful children before her passing in 2000.

In business, Henry was the rare blend of ambitious yet principled. He quickly grew Halsted from a small regional manufacturing plant to a national player in the packaging industry. He had a unique and refreshing ability to build lifelong friendships with even his fiercest competitors; and he took great pride in always striving to do the right thing for both his clients and his employees. Despite his health challenges over the last few years, Henry always relished hearing about the expansion of the business he so loved.

Henry was a proud and active supporter of his community. A longtime member of the Jersey City Rotary Club, he was awarded the Paul Harris Fellowship in 2015 for his 40 years of service and contributions. He could be found every year at his former Jersey City elementary school where he would present each student with a new dictionary, and then enthusiastically quiz them on the various definitions of his favorite words.

Henry's family and friends will miss his many talents, particularly his accordion playing around the fireplace at Christmas. Though Henry downplayed his musical abilities, he grew up spending many weekend evenings with his polka band at some of the marquee function halls in the greater New York area.

While Henry was engaged in so many things, it was his family that was his unrivaled pride and joy. No friend, acquaintance or passerby could escape Henry without learning about the latest accomplishments of his children, grandchildren, or great-grandchildren. Henry will be deeply missed by his daughter, Karen (Michael) Murphy; daughter-in-law Cathie Jaszewski; grandchildren Eric (Jenna) Jaszewski, Christie (Kyle) McKinney, Stacey (Kris) La Turno, Ryan (Ashley) Murphy, Justin (Meg) Murphy, Kyle (Alyssa) Murphy, Brendan Murphy; his ever growing circle of great-grandchildren, and several nieces and nephews whom he cherished greatly. He was preceded in death by his wife, Lucille, and his son Richard. Henry and his family are eternally grateful for his caretaker and companion, Nino Makashvili, for adding years to Henry's life and for bringing a smile to his face each day.

A small private celebration of Henry's life will be held on Friday, September 18th, 2020. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made in his memory to the Jersey City Rotary Foundation, c/o Treasurer Aaron D. Forman, 76 Bloomfield Street, Apt.9H, Hoboken, NJ 07030. “ Henry was my most favorite customer ever... It's been 15 years since he was a customer, though we continued to correspond... I quote him nearly every time I sit down with someone new at work... He once told me "You rest, you rust!" and I will never forget these words to live by. God bless you Henry J; may you rest in peace... I hope memories of happier times with this wonderful man bring peace and comfort to all those he leaves behind.

“ Starting with a family wedding in 2001, Uncle Henry reached out regularly to the West Coast Jaszewskis. His brother, our father, died in 2006. What began as a chance for brothers to reconnect, became a mutual admiration society. Henry came for weddings, reunions and July 4th celebrations. My siblings and our children learned quickly to value his time on the West Coast. He was so interested in each and every one of us. When visiting, you would see him sitting quietly in a corner with one of us showing his concern and sharing his wisdom.

“ Henry was a good man. I remember being at a TBPA show with my family in Florida, and being somewhat like a fish out of water since I'm more of a behind the scenes guy in the business. Henry could of have had dinner with many other people, and probably people he had done more business with. Still he saw me alone and invited me and my family to dinner. He introduced my wife to Chilean sea bass, (we don't get out much) and it's still one of her favorites. After my father died Henry would call just to check in to see if he could help in any way. He would also reach out to my mother which I know she got comfort from. Rest in peace my friend.

“ From NYP Corp.

We will miss Henry. He and my father were close friends, even though they competed at times. They enjoyed each other's company, and liked their 3 martini lunches at favorite restaurants. Henry was always friendly and helpful to me, as a young person coming into the business. After my father died, he kept in touch with my mother and our family. Sometimes he would call me just to chat about things in general.

Henry was full of life, very positive; principled, smart, a shrewd business person. i'm sure all of his family will miss him, as we will.

*For everyone at NYP and all the LaBelle family, our deepest condolences to all.

“ All of us at Gulf Coast Bag Co want to express our sincere condolences to Henry's family and the entire team at Halsted Corp. on Henry's passing.

We were fortunate to know Henry as we made our way up in the business in the New York City area. Our Dad, Joe Rochman and Henry were business competitors during the day and close personal friends after hours. This personal friendship derived from the way they both conducted themselves in business- they were principled, tough and always fair. This friendship continued long after both retired.

Learning the business from the ground up we all drove our trucks which included frequent stops at Halsted Corp. Invariably, Henry would come out of his office to greet us, talk with us and yes, mentor us.

Henry will be sorely missed; A devoted family man with the upmost integrity.
