“ Nana, not a day goes by that I don't think about you and miss you. Some days are definitely harder than others. But what consoles me is that I know you are with God and our family. You're the best nana anyone can have and I was blessed to have you in my life for 39 years. I know a lot of people that have not grown up with grandparents in their lives and it is truly a blessing to say that I have. Nana I miss your cooking so much and our Sunday dinners and sitting in the kitchen watching you cook when I was younger. I miss Tyeler picking on you and us acting silly and laughing all the time. Nana I wish that I can just see you one more time so that I can hug you so tight and I wouldn't let go! Since you know this is not physically possible, you come and hug me in my dreams. What keeps me going is the faith that we WILL see each other again and we WILL all be together again. But in the mean time Nana hold it down until we get there ( as I know you are) because you always held it down while you were here. Love ya! Kammie###imported-begin###Kamala Byers###imported-end##

“ Mommy,

Although I knew this day was coming, I can't bring myself to believe it surely has. My heart is extremely heavy, missing you so, but I do know and take enormous comfort knowing that you are at perfect peace resting with our Lord.

I thank you for being the most excellent mother anyone could ever ask for. Thank you for always showering all of us with your unconditional love. Thank you for shaping, molding and being proud of the woman I have become. I am forever grateful. Most of all, thank you for teaching us to always believe and trust in God and the importance of forming our own relationship with Him.

You were a real "trooper", enduring so much, and all the while, maintaining your strong faith in God and knowing that He would see you through. You deserve the perfect peace you now have! Well done Mom!! I love you so!
