

Noel B. Miller

May 11, 1928 - April 15, 2008

NOEL BRIAN MILLER, 79, of Neptune, NJ passed away at his home on April 15, 2008. Noel was an only child born to Gertrude and Carl Miller on May 11, 1928 in Newark, NJ. He graduated Asbury Park High School and resided in Union, NJ for many years before relocating to his beloved Jersey Shore in 1983. Noel started his career, at age 20, with New Jersey Bell in Asbury Park as a draftsman. He went on to be a Business System's and Project Engineer in Newark and East Orange, retiring in 1981, after 34 years. After enjoying his retirement for many years, at age 70, Noel decided to become a medical transport driver. He felt he was doing a "good deed" each day by caring for the ill and disabled. Noel was especially concerned for the elderly who lived alone so he tried to brighten their day by taking the scenic route and assisting them safely into their homes.

Surviving, to cherish his memory, are his wife of 19 ½ years, Marge Mahon-Miller. He is also survived by his daughter Maureen and her husband, Frank Hannon, Jr. of North Plainfield; his son David and his wife, Donna, of Randolph; his son Robert McGillin and his wife, Mitzi, of Neptune City and his grandchildren, Megan Robins, Frank Hannon III, Erin McGillin, Lauren Miller, Jonah McGillin and Lindsey Miller. During his illness, he was blessed to be able to meet and hold his great-granddaughter, Emma Jane Robins, born February 16, 2007. Noel also leaves three sisters-in-love, four brothers-in-love, five nieces and four nephews. Noel will be especially missed by his beloved sister-in-law, Mary Mahon, with whom he shared a special bond that solely only children can understand.

“ Chief, My Way by Frank Sinatra, New York Giants, spell all that out and you get Noel Miller. I'll miss the jokes, the long chats, and your presence. But strangely enough I know your presence won't ever cease. I'm sure everyone who truly knew you feels the same way. So no sense in saying goodbye. Just Catch ya later.##imported-begin##Nick Crooks##imported-end##

“ It is with great sorrow that Noel passed away, but will remember his friendliness and his love for life and the memories he shared with us on our recent visit. May he rest in peace and may light perpetual shine upon him. “*"Noel Miller - -my mentor." I've said that so many times over the years. As a new engineer in NJ Bell, I had the privilege of being coached by Noel and to this day have never met a more motivational, more inspirational individual. He taught me so many of the tools of Life that have served me to this day. All of my successes have been somehow rooted in the lessons he taught me so long ago and I try to share them with others whenever I can. He will be surely missed.
My deepest condolences to Marge and family.

“Dearest Marge and family you are in our hearts and prayers. Noel is a blessed soul who is now with many of our loved ones just waiting at the tiki bar in the sky to see us again. The comfort you provided was better than any nurse I know, but you will soon know the comfort that it will provide you. We love you.###imported-begin###glen wittersheim and sandra brown###imported-end##

“As co-worker with Noel in the 50's, and working periodically with him at other times, I express my sincere condolences to his family. Three of Noel's attributes come to mind: He was ever the proper business man in appearance and manner, never known by me to speak ill of others, and had a broad, contagious smile and infectuous sense of humor. He will leave a blank spot on the planet and will be sorely missed. Resto nella pace!###imported-begin###James H. Ribbe###imported-end##

“ Fond memories and gratitude last beyond a lifetime. Noel was a good man who helped many people including myself. Firm but fair, he taught me quite a lot during my career with the Bell System. My sympathies go to all his family during their time of grief.###imported-begin###Mike Beagen###imported-end###
