“ I have known Becky as long as I have known my wife Colleen who I met 49 years ago. During this time I witnessed a genuine love between Becky and Colleen which was as if they were sister's to each other. When Colleen and I married Becky became my sister too. Not many friendships remain this strong for so many decades. She was always a central person in our lives and was there in every good time of our lives. Becky was there when our daughter Tarah came into our lives in 1985 and was there when Tarah married her husband Rob in 2010. She was there for Colleen was hospitalized for a stroke in 2006 as well as her long term recovery. As recently as llast

“ Not only was Becky my mom's best friend, she was like family to me since I was old enough to know her. She was selfless, kind, unbelievably funny, and always had stories to share - whether about she and my mom, or just about something she had seen on TV. She also loved animals, big and small, and they loved her right back. Not only was she a staple in my life growing up, she opened her heart to Rob once he and I met, and she has been there for all of the special milestone moments with us since. I'll never forget the countless summer days over the years spent lounging and laughing in the pool, and getting dinner at Vic's. Ron, we also send our heartfelt condolences to you for your loss. Becky's generosity and amazing personality leave us all in sadness, but I know we will all be together again one day <3 - Love, Tarah & Rob

“ I have so many, many memories throughout my life that were spent with Becky. She was technically my aunt, but we were only 9 years apart in age, so she was always just "Becky". From trips to the beach, my first roller coaster ride at Great Adventure, to hysterical laughing around the table every, single holiday..the memories are endless and they are cherished. We should have went out to that lunch we kept promising to do. I'm sorry we missed that chance, but I will see you again one day. Pick out our spot on the beach, I'll meet you there when it's time. Tell my mom, Mom-mom and Pop-pop said hello. — Love, Shannon

Becky, I don't remember a time that I didn't know you. Our childhood memories were the best. Loved reconnecting over the last couple of years. Give my and your parents a hug for me. Already miss you terribly.
